

God's Love Prayer

God, I know that you love me and I invite your love. I invite your love to fill me; to seep into every part of my life. To cover all of me. To fill me and overflow in every moment. When I sleep and when I wake. When I work and when I play. In my failures and victories. Let the deep realization of how much you love me, transform me.

You know me and smile when you think of me. (Luke 12:7) You want the best for me and lead me towards my fullest potential. I do not have to figure out everything on my own (Jeremiah 29:11) You protect me and take care of me. I don't need to worry. (Psalm 91) You chose me before I chose you. (John 15:16) You accept me just as I am, with all my faults and brokenness. (Romans 5:8) You never leave me no matter what. I am not alone. (Hebrews 13:5) You laid down your life to save mine (John 3:16). You raise me up out of my brokenness and restore my life. I don't have to try and save myself. (Romans 6:8) You take care of me as my Father and I, your child. (1 John 3:1)

I now resist all other voices that lie and accuse me of not being loved or lovable. I replace these lies with these truths. I stay in the brightness of God's love and let the darkness flee. I stay close to you God, and listen to your voice alone so that I can continue to hear your words of love.

God loves me. I receive my true identity as God's beloved child. I bring this marvelous love (1 John 3) over my heart, mind, soul, spirit, and will. I bring the truth of God's love over my family and my home and my entire domain.

Your love be my life and breath, sustenance and holy desire.

By your love,

Amen
